

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

Secretary Bryan has pointed out how useless it is for Democrats to say that they approve of everything President Wilson has done unless they translate their words into deeds by voting for the democratic nominees for the Senate and for Congress in November. The man who pretends to be an admirer of the President and a supporter of his policies and then for any reason refuses to give him the votes he needs in Congress to pass his bills, reflects on his own intelligence and sincerity. The President has many broad plans to improve conditions everywhere and bring prosperity to the people. If the country gives him a Republican House or Senate these laws will never be enacted and the President will sit idly in the White House helpless with his hands tied. Put your stamp under the Democratic Rooster on the 3rd of November and you will do more to comfort and hearten President Wilson than by any other act that you can perform.

Just as soon as Congress adjourns, Senator James will take the stump in Kentucky for the Democratic nominees. He has been anxious to leave Washington for several weeks, but so many important bills are before the Senate for consideration that it is necessary to retain there the full Democratic vote. Senator James is a power on the stump and the Speakers' Bureau has hundreds of requests for him to come into the various districts and address the voters. Beginning next week, he will speak every day until the election.

Gratifying reports come from Lexington to the effect that the Democrats there are united for the whole ticket and that they will support Governor Beckham and Senator Camden with practical unanimity. Although Governor Beckham lost Fayette county in the primary, he has many warm friends there who have always supported him. The Lexington Democrats fight hard, but when the primaries are over they get in line for the nominees and do their full duty.

The English are waking up. The British Navy sent battleships to the Belgian coast and ran the Germans out of Ostend and other coast towns, by shelling them from the sea.

Pudd'nhead Wilson.

(Washington Correspondent of the Philadelphia North American.)

There are those who would have given no small sum to have been within hearing distance while President Wilson and Col. George Harvey were conversing in the White House. Mutual friends used to say that it was as good as a play to watch the flashes that sprang from a crossing of those two keenest of minds over a luncheon table.

Official etiquette forbids divulgence of presidential conversations, but a friend of a prominent inmate of the White House says that a little bird told him that Mark Twain's name came up in some connection, and that Col. Harvey remarked casually that there still live persons who had never heard of the great humorist. The President found this almost incredible.

"Oh, yes," the Colonel continued, "Only yesterday, here in Washington, I met such a one. He was an office-seeker. He declared positively he had never heard of Mark Twain. I asked him about Tom Sawyer. No, he had never heard of him either. Nor Huck Finn? No, never. Nor Pudd'nhead Wilson? 'Oh, Lord, yes,' he ejaculated; 'I voted for him.'"

And the President's roar of delight did not diminish in the least when the Colonel continued, softly, "And," he added, wistfully, "that's all the good it done me."

MANY BEAUTIFUL HOMES
Detailed List of Permits Issued For New Homes In The City.

In spite of much vaunted cry throughout the land that this has been a dull year, and that there has been little activity; in spite of the view of the stock exchanges that prosperity is showing a very meagre hand, there is still very tangible evidence that the city of Hopkinsville is still on the boom. Cities throughout the land have been pleading that times are slow and that the material advancement in these days of hampered political changes is impossible. Hopkinsville, however, proudly points to her record of achievement in the last year, and allows it to stand as the ever eloquent tribute that this is the "Best Town on the Map."

A review of the building activity in the city during the past twelve months will suffice to show that the claims here presented are not exaggerated. Liars may figure, but figures do not lie. Statistics are usually cold and uninteresting, but when they are presented in support of a statement that is so pertinent to every citizen of the surrounding community, they must at any rate bear with them a pride in the achievement of their town.

During the past year, there has been issued by the Building Committee, of the City of Hopkinsville, a total of 82 building permits. These permits total at their lowest estimation, for the value of the work done in the city for the current year, almost $300,000, making the actual average of each permit issued about $3400. The most expensive of these was for the Government building, now rapidly approaching completion, which was for $75,000.

In all, there were permits granted for the erection of 58 dwellings. The most of these are now completed, and are occupied. Among the most beautiful may be mentioned those of W. A. Radford, Ira D. Smith, W. H. Forbes, A. W. Wood, L. E. Foster, A. W. Henderson, and the Pennington. The residences of Mr. Geo. E. Gary, L. L. Elgin and A. E. Jackson, are still in process of erection. That the colored people are also keeping pace is shown by the building of Hiram Smith, on Sixth and Virginia Streets, the cost of which is given as $2,700.

In the commercial line there have also been several improvements. Frankels Busy Store has been remodeled at the cost of some $20,000, and has added to the appearance of the entire business section. Internal improvements are also under way, including the installation of an elevator. N. F. Dortch has built a warehouse at the corner of Liberty and Second streets at the cost of $8,000. Fox Brothers have a new creamery and factory across the street from the ruins of their former factory which was destroyed by fire, and now have an establishment that is as up-to-date, as any in the State. West & Lee have built a three story brick building on Eighth Street between Main and Virginia, and Joe Cheatham has erected a garage on First Street.

In public institutions there has also been a stir. The long needed library has been completed and stocked with a good supply of books. The Jennie Stuart Memorial Hospital has been opened for business, with an equipment that is worthy of a city several times the size. The Government building is practically completed on the outside, and is of a size that will

RECORD FOR DISPATCH

Judge Reed Is Rapidly Disposing of The Criminal Docket.

MANY JAIL CASES ARE TRIED.

Grand Jury Completed Its Labors and Adjourned Wednesday.

Judge Wm. M. Reed, of Paducah, who is substituting this week while Judge Hanbery is ill, has made a wonderful record for dispatching business. Yesterday morning he tried six minor criminal cases in thirty minutes. Two of them were boys charged with larceny and both agreed to let the judge try them without a jury. He heard the proof and then, with the consent of Commonwealth Attorney Smith, let both prisoners off with a reprimand, exacting a promise from each that he would try to keep out of trouble in the future. The docket was rapidly cleared of the smaller jail cases.

All day Thursday he had things on the move, and many cases were tried. Oscar Redd, house breaking, on a plea of guilty, got 1 to 5 years.

Floyd Young, aged 15, petit larceny, committed to House of Reform. Sam Bronaugh, c. c. d. w., $50 and ten days in jail.

Walter Rives, shooting with intent to kill, fined $100 for shooting in sudden affray.

Sylvester Dunlap, house breaking, 12 months in jail on reduced charge. Jim Ely, burglary, 2 to 10 years.

Otho Gray, accused of assault with intent to rob, acquitted.

The grand jury returned a final batch of indictments Wednesday afternoon and was discharged.

McDougal and Williams, accused of taking some bottles of whisky, submitted to court and dismissed.

Will Wheeler, petit larceny, given 30 days in jail.

Levy Berry, forgery, acquitted.

Arthur Gladdish, robbery, not guilty.

Several negroes were given short terms with such rapidity that the news could not be secured. In all 12 cases were tried during yesterday in time for Judge Reed to catch the afternoon train for Paducah.

Judge Hanbery will resume the bench today.

Joe Metcalfe, robbery, dismissed.

Tom Thomas, shooting, fined $50.

Reuben Thomas, shooting at another, fined $50.

Geo. Evans, assault and battery, fined $150.

Paul Dickerson, robbery, acquitted.

Robt. Waller, col., housebreaking, not guilty. Clyde Crane, same, acquitted.

Denzil Houk, grand larceny, 1 to 5 years.

HAS TYPHOID FEVER

Mrs Herndon Brought Here
From Holly Springs.

Mrs. Mann Herndon, who has been ill with fever for three weeks at her home in Holly Springs, Miss., was brought to this city Thursday, accompanied by her husband and their three children, and was taken to the residence of Mr. Geo. T. Herndon, on South Virginia street. Mrs. Herndon has typhoid fever. She expressed a desire to return to her former home and as her condition was improved, Mr. Herndon decided to bring her to Hopkinsville. She stood the trip quite well and apparently suffered no ill effects from the journey of nearly a day on the train.

Mixture of Language.

Mrs. Sarah Pittenberger, 50, and Cornelius Diaz, 32, were married in Mexico, Ia., recently. The bride speaks no Spanish and Diaz speaks no English, being a Mexican. An interpreter acted as best man at the ceremony.

HAPPY HOME WEDDING

Miss Mary Nance Becomes The Bride of Mr. Marion Usher.

WILL LIVE IN MISSOURI.

Left Thursday Immediately
Following The Wedding, By The Northbound Train.

Miss Mary Nance and Mr. Marion Usher were married at seven o'clock Thursday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. B. B. Nance, near Newstead. It was a quiet home wedding with simple decorations of the room with cut flowers and ferns and no attendants, excepting the maid of honor, Miss Martha Crenshaw.

The ceremony was said by Rev. J. C. Tate, of Clarksville. The bride was attired in a brown coat suit and hat, while the groom wore the conventional black. A number of invited guests were present to witness the nuptials and there were many handsome bridal presents.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Usher came to this city, returning with Mrs. Robert Gaines in their automobile and took the 10:20 northbound train for St. Louis. Their future home will be at Minden Mines, Mo., where the groom is in business.

The bride is one of Christian county's most attractive young women, whose lovable traits of character are appreciated by a wide circle of friends. She is a representative of one of the most prominent families of the county.

The groom is a successful man of affairs and a popular gentleman.

$1,400 BURIED

For Perhaps Fifty Years Found
Last Saturday.

Just before her death Mrs. Tom Franklin, of near Hematite, in the western part of this county, last Saturday told of over $1,400 in money which she had buried, and upon investigation the money was found to be just as Mrs. Franklin had said.

Mrs. Franklin was about seventy-five years of age and was born and had always lived in that section of the county. It was known by most everyone that she had some money, but no one knew anything about where it was, but just before her death she told some of the members of her family that they would find this money, over $1,400 in all, buried in the old well house. There was about $1,000 in greenbacks, nearly $400 in silver and about $80 in gold. It was buried in a box and was in a very good state of preservation. It is thought that this money had been buried there since the Civil War, over fifty years ago.

Mrs. Franklin was a highly-respected old lady, and is only survived by one daughter, Mrs. King Birdsong, of that section of the county. She was also the grand-mother of Mrs. Lucy Sanders, of this place, and is also survived by quite a lot of other relatives. Her remains were buried in the old Franklin graveyard near where she died and had always lived.—Cadiz Record.

Girls Returned Home.

Misses Helen Brown and Lela Sims, who ran away from home Saturday, October 3, were found by their fathers Monday in Memphis Tennessee and were brought home Tuesday night. They claim that the two Murray boys, Edgar Robertson and Elmo Hay, carried them away, with the understanding that they were to marry them but failed to carry out their part of the program by leaving them in Memphis.—Benton Tribune-Democrat.

STUBBORN
UNDECIDED

Fierce Attacks Continue in West
Belgium and Along Battle Line.

BOTH CLAIM ADVANTAGES

British Fleet Proving Important Factor in Battles Raging.

London, Oct. 23.—Desperate fighting continued yesterday in West Flanders and Northern France between Germany's armies, reinforced by virtually all her forces in the occupied portions of Belgium, and the French, British and Belgian troops, aided by British warships.

Along the coast the Yser river still divides the contending forces. Neither side, apparently, has advanced but in the interior, according to a German report issued tonight, the allies are retiring from several important positions.

This statement of the Germans is contradicted, however, by the French communication issued in Paris late today, which says the allies have not been moved, despite several attacks.

All along the front from the North Sea to the Swiss border, in fact, each side claims to have repulsed the other, or to have made slight progress at various points.

The contending armies seemingly are so nearly equal in strength that neither can force the other back, pierce the front or get around the wings.

In Poland, the preliminary battle, at least, has moved a little more swiftly. The Russians report that they have driven back the first German offensive move against Warsaw, the Polish capital, and the fortress of Ivangorod. All the Russian accounts refer to this as a great victory.

They declare the Germans, besides losing many prisoners and guns, have left large quantities of ammunition and provisions in the trenches they had prepared for their defense.

Apparently there has been more fighting on the East Prussian frontier, where the situation has been quiet for some time, as the German report says: "Our troops are pursuing the retreating enemy in the direction of Ossowetz."

The battle around Przemyśl and south of that city is going on, but farther south the Austrians claim they have cleared the Russians out of Hungary and are advancing toward Bukovina, a crown land in Eastern Galicia, with the same object in view.

As though the Belgians already had not suffered sufficiently from the war, villages along the coast north of Ostend are suffering severely from shell fire. Lying, as they do, between the German lines and the British warships off the beach, some are reported wiped out and others badly damaged. It is believed, however, that virtually all the inhabitants fled when the Belgian army retired behind the Yser river.

METCALFE'S NEW CONSERVATORY

Will Be Erected At Once On
The Corner of Seventh and Liberty.

Mr. T. L. Metcalfe has laid the cornerstone of the conservatory he will erect as an addition on the east side to his Avalon building, and the new building will be put up at once. It will be a beautiful structure, mostly of glass on the side next to the handsome new Library Building across Liberty street. This corner has been vacant for some time and Mr. Metcalfe has decided to put up the contemplated addition at once. It will be an ornament to that part of town.

THURSDAY'S NEWS.

Belgium.

A wireless dispatch from Berlin states that the British fleet is bombarding Ostend. Bordeaux reports a great battle in progress between Lille and Ostend, with the situation favorable to the allies. The British War Office gives credit to the "fighting spirit" of the Belgian army. It is estimated that 700,000 Belgians still in their own country are on the verge of starvation.

France.

The official statement of the French War Office reports a violent battle on the left wing from the North Sea as far as La Bassee, lasting throughout the day, with the allied forces everywhere holding their ground. The report is silent as to the center and right. The fighting is without any decisive results. The report comes from Amsterdam that after bombarding Roulers, in West Flanders, throughout Tuesday night, the allies occupy the town.

Germany.

The German cruiser Emden sunk British steamers and a dredger and captured two other vessels. An engagement between torpedo boats and submarines is reported in the Baltic. The Japanese Embassy in Rome reports finding two German cruisers. One sank itself and the other was captured. The Camerant of Cork sank in the North Sea.

The Petrograd official statement last night says:

Russia.

"The German troops which had occupied the roads leading to Warsaw in the region north of the River Pilitia, have been repulsed and are now in full retreat, leaving their wounded on the battlefield."

"In the region south of Pzemyśl Russian troops are energetically checking the advance of the enemy."

"There is no essential change in East Prussia."

Pickpockets who usually work the big crowds, got in some successful work show day.

W. S. Witty was robbed of his pocket-book containing $140 that he had intended to put in the bank. It disappeared while he was going to or from the circus.

Jas. Mitchell reported a loss of $37 and Mr. Holeman, of Gray, lost $15.

E. M. Jones had his pocket-book taken, but his money had been transferred to another pocket and was not secured.

In Honor of Bride.

Miss Julia Henry, of Newstead, entertained at a miscellaneous show-er from two to four o'clock, Oct. 19, in honor of Miss Mary Nance, a bride of the week. The house was brilliantly decorated with pot plants, lilacs and cut flowers. A unique feature was a decorated chair, a seat of honor for the bride-to-be. Before her was an altar containing the gifts and attached to each gift was a card in verse, expressing the good wishes of the giver. Miss Henry was assisted in entertaining by Misses Carrie and Lottie Baker and Annie Clardy. A delicious salad course was served. Delightful music added very much to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

Cake Conceded To Louisville.

Western Kentucky has been afflicted with its night riders, Eastern Kentucky has had to contend with its feudists and the Bluegrass section has had its toll gate raiders, but in all these sections the man hasn't been found that's mean enough and not totally depraved as to sell diseased horse meat to its citizens for food. Let's join forces, friends, and send a few missionaries to Louisville.

Democratic Ticket.

FOR CONGRESS.

David H. Kincheloe.

FOR SENATOR.

(Long Term.)

J. C. W. Beckham.

FOR SENATOR.

(Short Term.)

JOHNSON N. CAMDEN.

The feeling amongst the Republican leaders in opposing Willson's candidacy for the senate is bitter in the mountains than anywhere else. Although in those districts the republicans in the past, have secured their biggest vote, this year Willson will be deserted by thousands who voted for him for Governor. It is generally conceded that he is the weakest man his party could have nominated. He can gain no votes from the Democratic ranks, the progressives have no confidence in him, and his own party followers refuse to enthuse over his candidacy.

In his letter to Congressman Underwood President Wilson commends the work of the Democratic Congress and confesses that without their aid it would have been impossible for him to have carried out the policies to which the democracy stands pledged. It will be necessary for the President to have a democratic house and senate next year to complete the work he has so admirably begun. The election of Governor Beckham and Senator Camden is, for that reason, is most important. To send a Republican to the Senate from Kentucky this year would be a rebuke to the President and a blow to the party in this state from which it would never recover.

Every reference made by Secretary Bryan to the Peace Policy of the President in Mexico was heartily applauded. That is true not only in Kentucky, but wherever the Secretary of State has spoken. The people endorsed President Wilson's Mexican policy for its wisdom and humanity and in November they are going to show their unqualified approval by voting for the Democratic nominees. As Mr. Bryan well says, this is not a one-man campaign and it would have been impossible for the President to have put his ideas into laws if he had not had Democratic support in both houses. A vote for Beckham and Camden for the Senate and for Dave Kincheloe for Congress, is the surest and quickest way to bring joy to the heart of President Wilson.

Mr. Bryan has published over his signature in the Commoner an editorial reviewing Governor Beckham's political career and strongly endorsing his candidacy for the Senate. No higher compliment could be paid any man than to have the friendship of William Jennings Bryan, because he himself is a pure man and a patriot and he only stands for those men who are clean, able and loyal to the party principles. All the years that Mr. Bryan has been in public life battling for the great ideas that are now the very foundation of democracy, Mr. Beckham has been his staunch supporter and defender. Governor Beckham, at the Masonic Temple, in Louisville, stated that if elected to the Senate he would stand by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan and hold up their hands in the brave battle they are making for the rights of the people.

USES ELECTRICITY ON PESTS

Invention of Engineer Destroys Not Only the Grasshoppers, But Also Their Eggs.

A new machine has just been invented by an engineer, Mr. Friggeri, for the destruction of insects. This electric machine has been tried at Palacios, in the province of Santa Fe in the Argentine Republic.

On a carriage that is easy to transport, Mr. Friggeri places a gasoline motor and an alternating current generator. At the back of the carriage a drum is placed, on which about two hundred meters of insulated cable have been rolled.

This cable carries the current to a metallic net or system fixed upon a little vehicle with two wheels, and which carries in its center a transformer that is destined to raise the tension to 6,000 volts and even more.

After several trials, which have all been crowned with success, the experiments at Palacios were considered as decisive. Indeed, not only has it been possible to destroy the grasshoppers but also their eggs, which are to be found buried four inches deep in the ground.

With the same apparatus provided with a metallic broom worked at the end of an insulated handle, and which is joined to the positive pole of the transformer, it is also possible to completely clean the trees attacked by insect parasites.

PARLIAMENTARY "BULLS."

An Irish member of parliament, speaking of suicide, said "The only way to stop it is to make it a capital offense, punishable with death." It was the same member who assured the house that "As long as Ireland was silent under her wrongs England was deaf to her cries," while it was during a debate on the scandal of packed juries during the Irish troubles that a member in support of the government exclaimed, "By trial by jury I lived, and with the blessing of God, with trial by jury I will die."

There was a wild howl of delight, too, when some pro-se member was careless enough to remark, "The time has come and is rapidly arriving," which is equal to the cry of the member who wished a motion was "at the bottom of the bottomless pit."

WHY TELEGRAPH WIRES HUM.

Many reasons have been given as to why telegraph wires hum. Some say that the sound is caused by the action of the wind and others that it is the result of changes in temperature. Professor Field of the University of Ottawa, says that neither of these explanations is correct, but that the sound is due to the vibrations of the earth. The vibrations of the earth are transmitted to the wires through the poles. This authority further states that the song of the wires is the song of the barometer and that the variations are in direct relation to variations of the weather. Changes in the vibration of the earth indicate approaching changes in the condition of the atmosphere. If the sound of the wires is low it is probable that the weather will change in a day or two, but if it is sharp a momentary change may be expected.—American Boy.

SIMPLE STREET NAMES.

A French contemporary has been amusing itself by making a list of long street names. The Parisian record is the Rue des Pretres-Saint-Germain-Auxerrois, which is somewhat of a mouthful, but is equalled by a thoroughfare in Brussels rejoicing in the name of the Rue de la Montagne aux Herbes-Potageres. In the environs of the Belgian capital there is even more of a tongue-twister, the Ongeschildeilverenockernootjestraat, which may be rendered as the street of the little unpicked silvers.

Second Wreck Saw Every Reason for Believing Story Told by the First Wreck.

Appropos of the "dryness" into which West Virginia has entered by a prohibition majority of 90,000 H. L. Kirk, the mayor of Wheeling, said:

"Well, for the next four years, at any rate, you'll hear no such horrible dialogues in our West Virginia bar-rooms as a man heard recently in Parkersburg.

"This man saw two thin, pale, nervous wrecks standing side by side tossing off whiskeys one after another feverishly.

"The first wreck, in the interval between his ninth and tenth whiskey, wiped his mouth on the back of his thin hand and said:

"I'm just up out of a sick bed. I've been awful sick. Snakes and pink toads and green monkeys, day and night, crawled all over me."

"The second wreck started. With a frown he regarded the first wreck intently. Then he shuddered and drew back.

"Why, man," he said, "they're crawling all over you now!"—New York Herald.

Mountaineer, With No Prospects of Using Marriage License, Wanted His Money Back.

"Here's a license I done got in this here court 24 years ago, and I don't seem to have nary a chanst to ever use it, so I reckoned it best to bring it back and get the money I paid you for it."

This speech greeted the clerk in the marriage license office in the courthouse at Williamson, W. Va., shortly after a rugged mountaineer had entered and asked for the "feller that fixes up the marriage papers."

"You see," he said, "me and Euphemia always meant to get married, but she was so consarned contrary-like that she never was ready to have the parson tie the knot when I was.

"I 'lowed that I could worry along a while with Euphemia in her tantrums, but after 24 years I got tired and told her either we uns 'ud get married or we wouldn't."

"Euphemia 'lowed we wouldn't; so I calkerlate we won't."

NO MORE CARICATURE.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, during his recent visit to New York, said to a New York reporter:

"English authors nowadays sell better in America, as a rule, than at home. A sale of 20,000 volumes is extraordinary at home, but here a sale of 100,000 is hardly extraordinary.

"One consequence of this fact is the disappearance from English fiction of the American girl caricature. The American girl in English fiction today is, if anything, over-flattered. But in the English fiction of yesterday the American girl was of the type that says:

"Gee, pop, hop inter a b'led shirt. Thar goes the hash hammer."

Neutralize Shock of Sound.
If you know that you are going to hear a loud sound it is well to open the mouth, as the shock will then be neutralized. Noises in the ears are most annoying, and sometimes resist all treatment. They are often associated with deafness and should, therefore, receive due attention.

BUILD UP NATIONAL FORESTS

More Than a Million Acres Have Been Acquired for the Purpose Since the Year 1910.

The lands approved for acquisition by the government for national forest purposes in the East since the beginning of the purchase policy in 1910 are now 1,104,000 acres, having a purchase price of $5,500,000.
About two million dollars of the original appropriation remains available for further purchases in the fiscal year 1915. The lands favorably acted on to date include 133,000 acres in the White mountains of New Hampshire, while 971,000 acres are in various parts of the southern Appalachians from Virginia to Georgia. Nearly four hundred thousand acres were approved for purchase during the last year, at an average price of $4.96 an acre.

As areas of suitable size are built up by the government through successive purchases they are placed under a system of organized administration, with local officers of the government's forest service in charge.
The first object is to protect the forest against fire, for the twofold purpose of steady stream flow and increasing timber production. There is, however, provision for all forms of use of the forests not inconsistent with their permanent welfare as sources of timber and water supplies.
Some of the areas are already beginning to yield revenue to the government through the sale of timber, which can be removed with benefit to the remaining stand. Eventually it is expected that they will prove excellent investments, besides yielding important public benefits.

Couldn't Be Made Public.

It was the custom of one of the managers to criticize every individual performance at each new town the company visited after the fall of the curtain on the stage. One night he did not say anything to young Loraine.
He reminded the manager of his omission by saying: "As you did not say anything about my performance, I take it it was all right." Then came the icy reply: "I did not say anything about your show, because what I have to say to you I must say in private."

Microbes in the Air.

Many living microbes float in the air of dwellings, but in houses which are old, overcrowded and dirty the numbers are very much higher. These come for the most part from the sides and floor and not from persons, but they are much more numerous when the dust is disturbed than when the room has been quiet for a short time.

MOSQUITO NOT SOLE AGENT

Scourge of Malaria Has Been Proved to Exist in the Water and Soil of Many Countries.

At last some weight has been lifted from the shoulders of the mosquito. Dr. Charles S. Braddock, Jr., late chief medical inspector of the Royal Siamese government, says in a recent paper in the New York Medical Journal that while the mosquito is the sole carrier of yellow fever, it is only one of the propaga-tors of malaria. According to Doctor Braddock, malaria is by no means eliminated by the annihilation of the anopheles pest, except in localities where the disease is not endemic.

In true malarial countries the scourge exists in the water and soil,
as in the deep jungles of Africa,
Asia and America, while in the foothills of the Himalayas, where the thermometer drops to 34.5 degrees Fahrenheit in the cold season, when there are no mosquitoes, malaria is so deadly that the country has become uninhabited over large areas.

To do away with malaria in the tropics the doctor recommends the simple expedient of cutting away the jungle for a great distance in all directions from the habitation, so as to let the sun in. This, with the usual precautions of protection from mosquitoes and the drinking of distilled water, will prevent any epidemic of malaria in Panama or in any other country where it exists in the water and soil.

Popular Young Couple Wedded Uncle Sam to Investigate When Income Tax Figures Are Suspected.

Mr. U. L. Mejer and Miss Hallie May Dillman were married by Dr. C. M. Thompson at the pastor's study of the First Baptist church Wednesday evening and left immediately afterwards for a bride's tour to Alabama, where the groom's brother resides. Mr. Major is a son of Mr. E. H. Major and is a popular young farmer. The bride is a daughter of Mr. J. H. Dillman, county road engineer, and is an attractive and lovable young lady. Upon their return, they will reside with the parents of the groom on the Cadiz pike.

PURELY PERSONAL.

Mrs. Bailey Waller is visiting in Corydon and Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Richardson, of Clarksville, attended the circus, the former returning home the same night. Mrs. Richardson remained with her mother, Mrs. F. C. Hill, until Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Sallie Bowling has returned from a visit to her sons in Clarksville. Marcellus Jago, who has been working for the Ellis Ice Co. in Hopkinsville for the past several months, has returned to his home in Cadiz and will probably enter school here in a few days.—Record.

Miss Lucy Wallace, of Clarksville, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wallace, of Newstead.

Miss Julia Wallace is in Lexington visiting the family of Dr. Frank Clarke.

Misses Martha Soyars and Mary Crenshaw are the guests of Mrs. Holland Garnett, at her home near Pembroke, over the week-end.

Mr. J. D. McGowan was in Clarksville yesterday on business.

Col. W. R. Homell, of near Julian, is in the city.

Miss Beatie Wallace was the hostess of a bridge party to her many friends on Wednesday night.

Miss Lottie Baker left yesterday to visit Miss Katherine Howard, of Earlinton.

Judge W. M. Reed was accompanied here this week by Mrs. Reed. They returned home yesterday afternoon. Miss Bettie Mendel, of Fulton, is a guest of Mrs. M. L. Elb.

Misses Beatrice and Jessamine Moayon, of Louisville, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. M. L. Elb. The Misses Moayon recently returned from Paris, France, where they had been studying music and the French language.

Poker Game Raided.

Officers Hawkins, Witherspoon and W. G. Mitchell broke up a little soiree of colored pasteboard pushers at the residence of C. Jones, colored, on Thursday night. Four gentlemen of color were engaged in a little exhibition of the national indoor sport of poker, when the attention of one of the officers was attracted by the frenzy of their betting. He was unable to see into the house, as the windows were well screened, but was sure enough of the nature of the game to know that it would hear inspection. As a result, Geo. Diuguid, Henry Pryer, Ed Jefferson and Cy Jones are being detained for their examining trial. Diuguid, who possesses a name that spells alike backwards and forwards, is also detained on the charge of carrying a concealed deadly weapon. He had with him at the time a large old-fashioned Colt 44.

Some of the spiders of Java have webs so strong that a knife is required to cut them.

FAVORABLY IMPRESSED

Is Mr. Richardson With Outlook in County

Mr. Geoffrey Morgan, who has been County Superintendent of Agriculture here for the past year, has been transferred to another territory in the east of the State to continue his work there. Mr. Morgan made here a deep impression as a man of tireless energy, and of unsurpassed knowledge in all lines that tend to better farming. He has the reputation of being the best agriculturalist in the state, and his success here proves that this is not an undeserved tribute. The district to which he goes is to be congratulated upon receiving him.

Mr. G. C. Richardson, who replaces Mr. Morgan, is a State University graduate, and is from Kenton county. He states that his survey of the county has given him the impression that it should be one of the best agricultural regions in the whole state. He is largely interested in dairying, and believes that this branch of the farming industry could be developed to great commercial advantage here. His experience in farming dates from his birth, and he will be glad to meet any of the farmers in the county at any time. His office is with the Christian County Crop Improvement Association at their building.

STRICT RULES

Regulations Controlling Navigation of Panama Canal.

Regulations for the operation and navigation of the canal have been promulgated, and cover in every detail the behavior of all ships from the moment they arrive in the port at either terminus until they leave the zone of control on the opposite side of the isthmus. After entering one of the terminal ports no vessel is permitted to leave, either for the canal or the ocean, without being given authority to do so. It is within the power of the officials to deny passage to any vessel, or hold it for investigation, if its sanitary condition is questionable or the status of its cargo, hull, or machinery such as might endanger or obstruct the canal. Craft carrying explosive or inflammable oils are expected to seek permission for passage before leaving ports of departure, and such ships, while crossing the isthmus, must display red flags by day and red lights at night. Each ship must take on a government pilot to direct the course through the canal. Responsibility for accidents resulting from a refusal to follow his advice is placed upon a ship's owner or representative. All radio apparatus is entirely under control of the canal authorities throughout a voyage. It may be used for canal business, must have an operator in attendance constantly and must not interfere with the canal radio station. Excepting while plying the waters of Gatun Lake, ships may not proceed faster than 6.9 miles an hour.

Unnecessary whistling, the discharge of firearms, "cross signaling," the general use of searchlights, the pollution of the canal waters, and the failure to disclose anything pertaining to a ship or its cargo which might cause trouble to either it or the canal, are prohibited. A steam vessel proceeding under sail carries a black ball 2 ft. in diameter, forward; and seagoing suction dredge, when under way and dredging, carry two black balls of the same size.—From the November Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Sabel Brothers' New Stand.

The Moayon building, which was for 24 years the location of the post office, is being remodeled preparatory to its occupancy by Sabel Brothers. Large corner show windows are being built, the tops to be of prism glass. Shelves are being put in, and also other interior decorations. Mr. Moses L. Elb, the owner of the building, says that the work will be completed by the first of the month.

Wedded in Clarksville.

Two Christian county couples eloped to Clarksville Wednesday and married. They were Claud O'Daniel and Miss Bertha Cannon, and Albert McCord and Miss Florence Simpson.

A MOONLIGHT SCHOOL.

Upon request of the teacher, Miss Eunice King, several of the patrons and County Superintendent went to Walker's school house, about nine miles from town, last night to organize a night school. This is not as many people would think, a school for the illiterate only, but is for any one in the county who desires to attend. There are four teachers in the district and they propose to conduct recitations in various branches and it is the purpose also to organize this into a sort of literary club and improvement league.

Mrs. Graves was present also and delivered an address on canning club work and extension work in this county. Quite a number of ladies were present and they expressed an interest in Mrs. Graves' work and efforts are being made to organize a ladies' league. The patrons of the Walker's school district are now taking great interest in the local school and these meetings will not only be beneficial to them but will also be a valuable asset to the day school. They have been making some needed improvements on the grounds and building and in the near future they are to arrange for a general clean-up day and they hope to paint the house on the inside and outside. The first meeting of the night school will be held next Monday night, when work will be done in Hygiene, Geography and Mathematics and the County Superintendent, upon request of the patrons, will deliver an address on the European War.

An invitation is extended not only to the patrons of the district but to any one in the county who desires to attend.

AMUSEMENTS.

Fayssoux, the psychic marvel, who comes to Holland's Opera House Monday for a three nights' engagement, will give the famous blindfold drive behind a span of spited horse through the streets of the city. He will undertake to carry a committee consisting of well known citizens to the secret place where they have previously concealed some small object and to uncover the hidden to the gaze of the men conducting the test of his wonderful powers. Fayssoux has never been known to fail in the quest.

Loses a Barn.

R. J. Downer, a prominent farmer of the Fairview vicinity, lost a large barn of tobacco by fire Wednesday. The blaze started from fire with which the tobacco was being cured. The barn contained something like ten thousand pounds of tobacco and the loss on building and contents is estimated at $1,500, with no insurance.—Pm. Journal.

Warned By Possum Hunters.

James Dickerson, a miner who works for the Mannington Coal Co., on Sunday received a note warning him to leave the neighborhood in five days. It was signed Possum Hunters and it is said was the second warning note he had received lately. At last account he was making no effort to obey the order.

Buy a Hogshead.

A big hogshead of tobacco was on display yesterday in front of the First National Bank with a sign on it which read "Buy a Hogshead of Tobacco and help the Christian County Farmers." This is a local application of the movement in the South to "Buy a Bale" of cotton.

Old-Timer Returns.

S. A. Nance, Jr., known as Bud Nance when he lived in Hopkinsville 30 years ago, was in town yesterday renewing old acquaintances. He has lived much of the time in the far west, but is now traveling for a Louisville mercantile establishment.

Walks Going Down.

The external work on the Government building is practically completed and the workmen are engaged in putting down a concrete walk in front, and around the sides of the building.

A NURSE TAKES DOCTOR'S ADVICE

And is Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Euphemis, Ohio.—"Because of total ignorance of how to care for myself when verging into womanhood, and from taking cold when going to school, I suffered from a displacement, and each month I had severe pains and nausea which always meant a lay-off from work for two to four days from the time I was 18 years old.

"I went to Kansas to live with my sister and while there a doctor told me of the Pinkham remedies but I did not use them then as my faith in patent medicines was limited. After my sister died I came home to Ohio to live and that has been my home for the last 18 years.

"The Change of Life came when I was 47 years old and about this time I saw my physical condition plainly described in one of your advertisements. Then I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot tell you or any one the relief it gave me in the first three months. It put me right where I need not lay off every month and during the last 18 years I have not paid out two dollars to a doctor, and have been blest with excellent health for a woman of my age and I can thank Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it.

"Since the Change of Life is over I have been a maternity nurse and being wholly self-supporting I cannot over estimate the value of good health. I have now earned a comfortable little home just by sewing and nursing. I have recommended the Compound to many with good results, as it is excellent to take before and after childbirth."—Miss EVELYN ADELA STEWART, Euphemis, Ohio.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

INJUNCTION AGAINST RACE SEGREGATION ORDINANCE DENIED

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 23.—An injunction asked by J. R. Neighbors for himself and other members of his race preventing what is known as the "segregation ordinance" from taking effect in Louisville has been denied by Judge Samuel B. Kirby. The negroes asked that the ordinance be declared null and void.

Judge Kirby, in passing on the case, reminded the plaintiffs that they have recourse in other courts, where, if the negroes persist in questioning the constitutionality of the law, it may be passed on quickly and finally. The negroes have raised a fund which they say will be used to make further attacks on the law which they claim to be confiscatory.

MRS. MOOR WINS

Mrs. Moor sat alone in the library of her spacious home. The soft chimes had just struck the midnight hour. The servants having completed their day's work had retired, and the big house seemed deserted. She was waiting for her husband. Every night it was the same; she sat alone, listening for his footsteps. He always went directly to his apartment, unaware that his wife had not yet retired, but she could not rest until she knew that he was safe at home.

Tonight she was unusually depressed. Fifteen years ago she was a happy bride, and for the first five years he had been a loving, attentive husband, inviting her to share all his pleasures; but she was a quiet, sensitive woman, hating a crowd and fearing to meet strangers, and she pleaded with him to leave her at home. Becoming discouraged, he ceased to ask her to accompany him, and left her to live her own life.

Had they been blessed with children, all would have been different, for she was a born mother and homemaker. One child had been given them, but its life was so short that to the poor little woman it almost seemed a dream that her loving heart had once pressed close a tiny baby form.

Her husband, the brilliant Mr. Moor, could not be expected to spend his time at home with one so quiet and uninteresting as his wife, therefore society promptly forgot Mrs. Moor and received that talented gentleman with open arms, and it was now whispered that he was giving undue attention to a beautiful widow. The wife knew this, and it grieved her, for she loved her husband with all the devotion of her quiet nature.

All of these things passed through her mind as she sat there, and she thought, "Why am I so bereft of love and happiness? Is there any solution to my problem?" She gave a sigh and walked over to a long mirror, critically examining her reflection. She saw a delicate, petite figure with masses of light-brown hair that seemed almost too heavy for her small face; big brown eyes that looked out on the world with a great sadness in their depths, and she thought: "No wonder that he has forgotten me. I am just a little mouse of a woman, almost afraid of my own shadow; and yet my hair and eyes are not half bad, and if I had a little color I would not look quite so much like a wraith." And then she threw herself in the big armchair, sobbing: "Oh! why cannot he love me? I am always here to see that he is comfortable and that his home is run smoothly."

"Ah!" an accusing voice seemed to say, "any housekeeper could do that. Have you been a real wife, sharing his joys and sorrows, giving him your society and making him feel that he was necessary to your happiness?" She started, and a feeling of guilt pierced her soul. "Perhaps I am in fault," she thought. "Can it be that I have been selfish and considered only that which I like best? After all, he has given me more money than I know this beautiful home is mine, and he gives me more money than I know how to use." As this argument was impressed upon her mind she did some hard thinking. She did not hear her husband when he came in, and it was after two o'clock before she had completed her self-examination.

Next morning, after she had presided at her husband's hasty breakfast, a duty that she never missed, and had given out the instructions for the day, she ordered the limousine, and was driven to one of the best modistes in the city. She selected a dinner gown, evening dress and calling costume, and requested that they should be sent to her on the twenty-fifth of the following month.

From the dressmaker's she went to an engraver's, ordering invitation cards for a dinner and reception to be given at her home on the twenty-fifth.

She arrived home tired and very much excited. After dinner she asked her husband if he would join her in the library for a few minutes. He impatiently gave his consent, saying that he had a pressing engagement. She drew an easy chair before the open fire and asked him to be seated for a few minutes. "John," she said, "do you know that next month, on the twenty-fifth, we will have been married fifteen years? The thought came to me last night that we have never celebrated the event, and I have taken the liberty of inviting our friends to a dinner followed by a reception, to be given on that evening."

Mr. Moor looked his amazement and said, "Why, May! I thought that you hated all social functions."

"And so I do," said she, "but this is an unusual occasion, and I thought that it would please you."

"My dear," said he, "I shall enjoy it very much if you think that you can manage it successfully. You know that you can call upon me for any amount of money, and I shall be only too pleased to render you any assistance that I can. May I see the list of guests?"

She gave it to him, and his eyes brightened as he saw Mrs. Raymond's name heading the list. He bade her good-night with more tenderness than he had shown in a long time and left her with a smile and a rather puzzled expression on his face. The next day she again studied her mirror. "What I need," she thought, "is a beauty specialist to take out this careworn expression and tell me how to get some color," and she consulted the telephone directory and made an engagement with one of the most noted specialists to treat her every day.

She no longer sat up waiting for her husband. She was so healthfully tired at night that she was glad to go to her rest. Her days were happily filled, and she did not look like the poor little deserted wife of former days.

The all-important night came at last, and as she stood before the mirror, the maid readjusting a fold in her dress, she could not realize that it was she. It did not seem possible that there could be such a change in so short a time. She wore a peach-colored satin, draped in rich lace, and the delicate pink brought out the soft tints of hair and complexion.

When her husband met her to accompany her to the drawing-room he was surprised at her changed appearance and complimented her on her becoming gown. He felt a little fearful as to how she would conduct herself among his friends, but he need not have worried, for she was a gracious and charming hostess. The dinner passed off without a jar, and the reception was a perfect social success.

Several of his friends came to him and said: "By Jove, man! where have you been hiding that pretty wife of yours all these years? She's as clever as she is beautiful."

Mrs. Moor knew that she could never shine as a good conversationalist; therefore she resolved to be a good listener, and by giving undivided attention to a few, who loved to talk of their own pet hobbies, she gained the reputation of being very intellectual.

After the last guest had been bowed out the husband and wife stood together in the deserted drawing-room.

"Dear," he said, "you have made me very happy tonight, and I never realized before what a dear little wife I had. You look like a real fairy queen, and you have waved your magic wand and opened my eyes to your loveliness." He thought to himself, as he stood looking at her, that even Mrs. Raymond looked very ordinary beside her.

They walked slowly up the stairway, his arm about her, and as they neared the top he whispered, "Little Mayflower, will you always be by my side hereafter, wherever I go?" She looked up to him with swimming eyes. "John, I have been a wicked, selfish woman, and from now I shall only be too glad to share all your joys and sorrows."

Mrs. Moor's problem was solved.—Buffalo Express.

MISTAKE AVOIDED.

"I say, old chap, I'm in shocking luck. I want money badly, and haven't the least idea where I can get it."

Two Dogs Kill 200 Sheep.

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside George M. Rommel, of the United States Department of Agriculture, is quoted as follows: Cur dogs are almost as great a hindrance to the sheep industry as parasites. The only protection against them is watchfulness by day and a dog-proof enclosure at night. In Michigan recently 200 sheep were all run to death by two curs. Dog-tight night folds can be built of woven wire at small expense.

Twenty-three.

Whitesburg, Ky., Oct. 23.—Perhaps a record-breaker for the number of children born to one set of parents in Kentucky is the record just made by Mr. and Mrs. John Kiser of Camp Branch creek, a few miles west of here, in this county—the parents of twenty-three children, the twenty-third child having just been born to Mrs. Kiser. They have had three sets of twins. Mr. Kiser is still on the sunny side of 50, while Mrs. Kiser is but 46. This is doubtless a record-breaker for Kentucky.

Germany uses about 30,000,000 gallons of denatured alcohol for fuel annually and France about 18,000,000 gallons.

POMEROY RATS LIVED HIGH

Had Royal Feed on Thousand-Dollar
Public Building Bond Belonging to Ohio Bank.

That Cuyahoga county public building $1,000 bonds are good rat food was evidenced by a long envelope full of the much gnawed remains of one of these bonds brought to the county commissioners' office by a messenger from the First National bank.

The small pieces showed the bond was issued February 1, 1902, bore the serial number 763, maturing August 1, 1917, and that the 1914 coupon is still out.

The messenger explained the mutilated bond was received by the First National bank in Cleveland from the Pomeroy National bank at Pomeroy, O., with the information that rats had gnawed through a trunk where the bond had been kept and didn't stop until they had almost devoured the entire bond.

After a conference, County Commissioner Metzger said the owner of the bond either would be furnished a duplicate or another bond if the Pomeroy citizen will bear the expense.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

HEART BEAT AFTER DEATH

Switchman's Pulsation Reported to Have Continued Long After Respiration Had Ceased.

Chicago medical circles were interested in the report of an interne in one of the largest hospitals in the city that the heart of a patient who died in his ward had continued pulsation two hours and forty minutes after the man's respiration had ceased. The report was made by Dr. L. G. Morrill of the staff of St. Luke's hospital.

The patient was George Fitch, fifty-two years old, a switchman, who had been caught between two freight cars. His chest was crushed. He was operated on and died the night of July 31. According to Doctor Morrill's report, breath stopped at midnight. Doctor Morrill remained by the man's side and discovered that his heart continued to beat. It did not cease until 2:40 o'clock in the morning, he declared, and, meanwhile, by every test the man's lungs were lifeless.

Physicians declared the case of extreme interest, and requested Doctor Morrill to elaborate his official report.

WERE NOT POLICY SLIPS.

Slips of paper inscribed with Chinese characters were produced before Magistrate Herbert, in the Tombs police court, recently, when Lee Fung of 5 Mott street was arraigned for having policy slips in his possession. Detectives said that when they entered Lee's room he began to tear up the slips. Jim Gum, who acted as interpreter, read the slips in court.

"Ten pounds of prunes," he read. "Fifteen pounds of rice, five pounds of tea."

"That's enough," said Magistrate Herbert. "What was this place—a boarding house?"

Lee Fung nodded his head eagerly, and was immediately discharged.—New York Tribune.

OUTRAGEOUS.

Mr. Lawson—I don't see why you should take it to heart so, just because Wylkyns said that you were fat.

Mrs. Lawson (sobbing)—But it was a great deal worse than that. He said that I was bulky.—Somerville Journal.

NOT THAT KIND.

He—Darling, I would give a lot to make you happy.

She—With an up-to-date cottage on it?

QUIET LONG ENOUGH.

"Here's a woman wants a divorce because her husband hasn't talked to her for years."

"And she noticed it?"

A DOUBT.

"I say give a man rope enough and he'll hang himself."

"I don't know about that. He might rope you in."

OTHER USES.

"This orchestra uses a rack for its music."

"Yea, and the audience is often put on it."

Duruy's History of the World

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom. Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the glory that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades; through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof. Guizot completes in brilliant manner, to the story of the past be the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

PROPOSED TO FAMOUS NURSE

Mortally Wounded British Soldier Had Florence Nightingale's Promise to Wed.

Probably the most unique old couple in the United Kingdom live at Dry street, Langdon Hills, Essex. Mr. George Mihill, the husband, has served through the Crimean war and the Indian mutiny, while his wife was also present during the war, and knew Miss Florence Nightingale intimately. The old couple celebrated their golden wedding a short time ago.

In an interview, Mrs. Mihill told how, when traveling in the Crimea when the war broke out, she fell ill with scarlet fever, and was nursed back to health by Miss Nightingale.

"I recall," she says, "on one occasion a corporal named Persill had been brought into the wards mortally wounded. Miss Nightingale took special interest in his case, as he confided to her that he was the only support of a widowed mother. 'Oh, Miss Nightingale,' the man said one day, 'how I would like to marry you.' 'Get well, my man,' replied the nurse, 'and you shall.' Was it only to give him a fighting chance for life and to cheer him up that she said this?"

EVERY MAN HIS OWN DOCTOR

By Ascertaining Proper Diet, and Sticking to It, a State of Good Health May Be Kept.

The garden is a great medicine chest. Be your own doctor and look to your own slight ailments.

If you are wakeful eat lettuce. For affections of the skin and for yellow skin eat onions. Onions are also good for colds, coughs, serofula.

For a torpid liver eat freely of asparagus.

If the bowels are diseased try blackberries.

For malaria and general breakdown eat cranberries.

If nervous and irritable eat plenty of celery.

For constipation eat fruits, ripe and healthy fruits. Fresh fruits are good; so are figs and dates. Raisins are beneficial.

When the body is in good condition keep it in good condition by denying the appetite what has once injured the body. One can do everything for himself by eating the right thing and not too much of it, and by leaving alone the wrong thing and all of it. He can do more than doctors can do for him when he is flat on his back in bed.—Nantilus.

DISAPPOINTED ESCORT.

This is a story of a gunboat in Belfast lough a short time ago. The nearest Ulster volunteers heliographed a message to her commander on a Sunday morning asking if any men were coming ashore to church, as, if so, they wanted to form a guard of honor. The commander signaled back that 50 men were going ashore to church. The guard of honor was formed and lined up to receive the men as they came ashore. And then it turned out that the whole 50 were going to mass. The guard of honor disbanded at once.—Manchester Guardian.

COFFEE HEATED INSTANTLY.

For restaurant purposes a coffee heater has been invented which injects a jet of steam into a cup of cold coffee just before it is served, to save impairing its aroma by keeping it at a high temperature for hours.

SUSPICIOUS.

Harper—Foolish has a great scheme and he invited me to "get in on the ground floor."

Carper—Don't forget that that is where the trapdoors are.—Town Topics.

HUHI

"You should take more pains with your eating," advised the doctor.

"More!" exclaimed the dyspeptic. "Don't I suffer enough now when I eat anything?"

GENTLE REMINDER.

He—I am very much opposed to the tipping habit.

She—Yes, I have noticed you do not even tip your hat.

THE REASON.

"Hamlet always seems to be a paying play."

"Because it is a play in which the ghost has to walk."

Don't Worry—Eat.

Memphis, Tenn.—Mrs. Emma D. Looney, of this place, says: "I suffered misery for nearly eight years, but since taking Cardui, I am much stronger, and I haven't missed a single meal. I hardly know how to express my gratitude." Don't worry about your symptom—Cardui does not treat them. What you need is strength. Cardui helps you get it. Take Cardui, because other tonics and medicines do not contain its peculiar and successful ingredients, imported especially for its manufacture. Changed the Formula.

Mr. Paul Taylor, London magistrate, has improved upon the time-honored formula addressed to prisoners who are obviously innocent—"You leave the court without a stain on your character." In a case before him recently he assured a defendant that he "would leave the court with as good a character as when he entered it."

Truly There is Nothing New.

A French savant once said that "there was nothing new except that which has been forgotten." A very true assertion, since even the ancients made attempts to navigate the air and succeeded to some extent.

MADE POWERFUL GOLF SHOT

Ray Surprised Everybody by Changing From Driver to Cleeck, and Justifying Change.

There is still another class of golf shots, not so interesting, as they lack the mental side, but wonderful from the physical power required, writes Jerome B. Travers in the American Magazine. An example is the shot Ed Ray played at the sixteenth hole at Shawnee. This hole is about two hundred and sixty-eight yards from the tee. It is guarded by a deep brook, and beyond the brook a decided up-hill slope. Before Ray came up, Vardon, McDermitt and Alec Smith, all long hitters, took drives, and after clean wallops struck the side of the bank and fell short. The shot had to be nearly all carry, as the ground was soft from recent rains and the up-hill slope prevented launch run. When Ray stepped up he took a look at the hole and then stepped back, called his caddy and replaced his driver, taking out a cleeck. The crowd around gasped—and then laughed. But Ray knew what he was about. With a tremendous swipe he hurled the head of that cleeck into the ball, and when it landed on a full carry the white pill was within ten feet of the cup. He had carried brook, slope and everything else in the way with a cleeck, where other long players had failed with a club that is supposed to get 20 yards more distance.

CENTURY UNDER ENGLISH RULE.

One hundred years ago an agreement was reached by which the Cape of Good Hope, or Cape Colony, occupying the southern extremity of Africa, was finally ceded to England. Originally discovered by the Portuguese navigator, Vasco da Gama, at the end of the fifteenth century, the cape was first colonized by the Dutch in 1650 and for nearly one hundred and fifty years the country remained under the Dutch flag. An English expedition took the colony during the Napoleonic wars and continued in possession until it was restored to the Dutch by the peace of Amiens in 1802. The colony was again taken by the English four years later and in 1814 the territory was finally ceded to England.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH NO. 59.

James C. Johnson, a Leading Representative of The Real Estate Business.

James C. Johnson, of the real estate firm of Wright & Johnson, is a native of Christian county and was born in 1868. He grew to manhood and became one of the most prosperous farmers and land owners of the county and followed this business of farming until 1909, when he moved to Hopkinsville and bought a handsome home on Walnut street. His first business venture was as a partner in furniture store, but this did not prove to his taste and after one year he sold out and went into the business of handling real estate, especially farm lands. He is associated in this business with Mr. C. O. Wright and they have established a reputation as real estate men that has enabled them to do a big volume of business.

Mr. Johnson is thoroughly familiar with the farm lands of the county and has been instrumental in bringing together many buyers and sellers.

He is President of the Florida Farm Land Co., of capitalists, who own 7000 acres of land in Putnam county, one of the best farming sections in Florida, well adapted to the growth of citrus fruits.

Personally he is an agreeable and courteous gentleman, a progressive citizen and a wide-awake man of affairs.

The firm of Wright & Johnson have their offices on the south east corner of Main and Ninth streets, up-stairs. Both members of the firm are actively identified with the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association.

KINCHELOE SPEAKS TO-DAY

Eloquent Nominee For Congress Will Be Heard at Court House.

FOR THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Everybody Invited To Hear The Next Member of Congress.

Hon. D. H. Kincheloe, the Democratic nominee for Congress, will speak at the Court house this afternoon, this being his first speech here of a political nature since his nomination. The Republicans in town open their campaign Monday with a speech from Hon. A. E. Willson and the political pot may be expected to boil during the remaining week of the campaign.

The supplemental registration day for city voters who were prevented by sickness or absence on Oct. 6 will be Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. All such may register by affidavit in the office of County Clerk Harris.

Mr. Kincheloe, who opens the Democratic campaign, is widely known for his eloquence and forcefulness as an orator. Those who hear him will enjoy a treat as he is expected to shell the woods for the Democratic candidates.

VALUE OF A QUAIL

An Analysis Gives Actual Contents in the Stomach of a Single Bird.

Five hundred and sixty-eight mosquitoes, one hundred and nine potato beetles, two thousand, three hundred and twenty-six plant lice, one hundred chinch bugs, thirty-nine grasshoppers, twelve squash bugs, twelve cut worms, twelve army worms and eight white bugs—all these, says the State Game Warden of Tennessee, have been found in the stomach of a common quail. "What would that bird and its mate have been worth to you?" he asks, "if they had reared their little brood on your farm?"

The interesting and appalling menu shows that birds protect not only crops and orchards, but also the health of men and animals. Many of the insects they destroy are carriers of disease. A bull bat, we are told, will devour a thousand mosquitoes in one twilight; given due safety and encouragement, a family of bull bats should suffice to free any neighborhood of mosquitoes and prevent many cases of illness as well as incalculable discomfort.

Commenting upon the Tennessee game warden's statement, the Courier Journal well observes that too many farmers look upon birds "either with indifference or with enmity." A bird which now and then grabs a grain of corn or wheat, a berry or a cherry, is regarded as a caronic marauder, whereas he pays in service many times over for all that he gets. In fact, he is a reliable every-day farm hand, working seven days in the week, rain or shine, and taking no half-holidays. The birds are busy with the break of dawn, and sometimes they work far into the night. They deserve protection for the good they do. There are thousands of farmers who need to look at the bird question from a new viewpoint.

In most Southern States the last few years have witnessed a popular awakening to the value of insect destroying birds and the importance of protecting them. The means to this end that are already in force should be upheld and encouraged by everyone, particularly by the farmers, who are so closely indebted to birds.

HOW TO TREAT CROUP EXTERNALLY

Don't dose delicate little stomachs with nauseating drugs—rub VICK'S PREPARATION SALVE well over throat and chest; in five minutes the breathing is easy and in fifteen minutes the worst cases are relieved. INCENDIARISM SUSPECTED Valuable Property Destroyed in North Christian-Tobacco Consumed Near Fairview.

A barn belonging to Ned Ratcliff, in North Christian, containing a lot of farming implements, eight or ten tons of hay, a lot of apples, a surrey and other articles was destroyed by fire Wednesday. There was no one at home and it is not known how the fire started, but it is understood that the owner is of the opinion that some one set the building on fire. The loss is about $1,000.

Tobacco Barn Burns.

A barn containing 10,000 pounds of tobacco, the property of R. J. Downer, of near Fairview, burned Thursday. The loss is probably $1,500.

TOBACCO OUTLOOK

Local Dealers Estimate About 75 Per Cent. of The Usual Yield.

IN BLACK PATCH DISTRICT.

Shortage About What The Warring Countries With Closed Ports Use.

Local tobacco men are taking a more cheerful view of the tobacco situation as the time for the opening of the season draws near. It is estimated that the Black Patch district will produce this year about 75 per cent of the normal crop of 160,000,000 pounds. As Germany and the other European countries with closed ports use about 25 per cent of the normal crop, this leaves the situation without a glutted market if other countries use their usual amounts. The home consumption by the snuff companies and the cigar companies is about 40,000,000 pounds a year. Italy takes $5,000,000, England 15,000,000, France 12,000,000, Spain 10,000,000 and the other 8,000,000 should be used by Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland and other countries with open ports. It so happens that the shortage about equals the amount usually consumed by Germany, Austria-Hungary and Switzerland, which is supplied from Bremen.

There is no great surplus on the market and the situation for tobacco is altogether different from the cotton situation in the South, where the crop is the biggest ever raised.

A few sales are being made on the Hopkinsville market at fair prices.

It is a time for the farmers to take great care in firing their crops and preparing them for market in the very best style. In this county the crop is nearer normal than in many other counties in the fire district and altogether the situation is not without a cheerful aspect.

TEAM OFF FOR BIG BATTLE

Will Tackle Owensboro on Their Home Grounds This Afternoon.

LOOK LIKE SURE WINNERS

Rattling Bunch Who Have Not Lost a Game So Far This Season.

The local High School football team left this morning for Owensboro to participate in the first big game of its season. On this game depends the probable Championship of Western Kentucky. To date neither team has been defeated. The fast Owensboro squad has shown its class by defeating the strong Evansville High School team by a decisive score. On the other hand, the local aggregation has shown its strength in every game of this season. Coach Whitnell, late of Vanderbilt, has so developed the defense of his team, that in three games that they have played their goal line has not been crossed.

Both teams are on edge for the contest. Realizing as they do, that in all probability the championship hangs on this game. Every spare moment of time has been utilized to the best advantage; "circus day" was ignored by the entire squad, and the holiday was consumed in practice.

"The Hopkinsville aggregation is in good shape. Roberts, who was out for a time with a bad leg, is in fine fettle. Moss, the veteran tackle, has been showing the best of offensive work in the last games, and promises to make a reputation for himself in today's struggle. Breathitt and Capt. Weeks at ends, have shown their ability in the neat handling of forward passes and will probably carry the pigskin across the line for a few points. Haggins, the best half among the score or more Orange contenders, also bids fair to share in the honors. Lackey, his running mate at full, although seemingly handicapped by his lack of weight, has made at least one touchdown in every game so far, and will exert every possible effort to uphold his reputation. Dabney, who is living up to his brothers' reputation, and Lander, his team mate, have demonstrated defensive strength, and will maintain any lead that their associates grant. The team, although aware of the strength of their opponents, are strongly in hope of victory.

Stone, the All-Kentucky quarter of 1908, will referee the game.
